

The Save Hearts in Arizona Registry and Education (SHARE) Program is very pleased to join both the AIA and Parent Heart Watch to bring the Anyone Can Save a Life Program to Arizona high school athletics. This novel program has been extremely successful in Minnesota due to the efforts of the Minnesota State High School league and the Medtronic Foundation and has saved countless lives. Our goal is to do the same in Arizona.

Just as you practice what to do during games, matches, and meets; you will practice how to save a life when someone collapses from sudden cardiac arrest. The life you save could be a fellow coach, a student, or a parent. It could happen during a game or during practice. No matter where or when, you and your athletes will be prepared. Anyone can save a life—now you will know how.

Thank you for your life saving efforts.

Best regards,
Ben Bobrow MD
Medical Director, Bureau of EMS & Trauma System
Arizona Department of Health Services

Parent Heart Watch.
PROTECTING YOUTH FROM SUDDEN CARDIAC ARREST